Product details

Tailor-made
- Easily adaptable to constructional circumstances
- Small footprint

Specialization
- Flexible line concepts, expandable through components
- Creation of variety packs
Versatile and highly flexible: the Weber weSHUTTLE transport system.

The Weber weSHUTTLE (WSS) sets new standards in food production and offers a flexible alternative to the conventional transport of portions via belt systems. E.g. sausage, ham and cheese portions are conveyed by the Weber ShuttleSystem in single units, precisely and gently to one or more handover points. Whenever needed, single portions can be accessed anytime during their transport.

Advantages

- Gentle transport of single portions
- All slicers as well as all other machines connected up- and downstream are decoupled through an integrated buffering functionality, ensuring continuous production
- WSS is flexibly expandable: from simple entry solutions to high-end lines for complex infrastructures (as a stand-alone solution or coupled with existing Weber slicers)
- High dynamic and portion transfer performance guarantee maximal throughput
- Barrier-free transport
